Over 1,450 awarded degrees at Iqra University convocation

Dawn Report

KARACHI: More than 1,450 graduates were conferred degrees at the 23rd convocation of Iqra University (IU) on Wednesday evening.

Sindh Governor Kamran Tessori was the chief guest at the event held at the PAF Museum. The ceremony was also attended by prominent personalities from government, academia and the corporate sector, said a press release.

Speaking on the occasion, the governor emphasised the pivotal role of youth in national development, stating "youth skills must be harnessed effectively to tackle the country's challenges and drive sustainable progress."

He encouraged graduates to transform their education into innovation, ethical leadership, and meaningful contributions to society.

IU Chairman Naveed Lakhani congratulated the graduating class and reaffirmed the institution's commitment to expanding access to quality education, strengthening industry relevance, and nurturing future-ready leaders for Pakistan and beyond.

In his address, IU Vice Chancellor Prof Dr Nassar Ikram highlighted the university's continued growth and academic advancement, noting the expansion of new campuses, the launch of market-driven programmes, and the institution's strong standing in international rankings.

He stated that the university remains focused on quality, relevance, and excellence, with innovation and academic integrity as its guiding principles.

Highlighting the university's academic depth and research culture, the vice chancellor shared: "Over 300 research articles were published during the past year, reflecting an 11 per cent increase over the previous year, while research citations grew by 15pc."

He added that the university views such progress "not as destinations, but as checkpoints on our continuous journey toward excellence".

Speaking directly to the graduates, the VC underscored the realities of a highly competitive, AI-driven global environment, emphasising that future success would require more than technical competence.

He urged graduates to uphold strong values, ethical character, continuous learning, and adaptability, stating that true success lies in combining professional excellence with integrity, humility, and a lifelong commitment to learning.

The convocation concluded with the distribution of degrees and gold medals, marking a proud milestone for graduates, faculty, and families, and reaffirming Iqra University's role in shaping responsible, skilled, and future-ready contributors to society.

Fuuast's retirees urge PM to clear their long-pending dues

By Our Staff Reporter

KARACHI: Retired teachers and employees of the Federal Urdu University of Arts, Science and Technology (Fuuast) have again appealed to the Prime Minister of Pakistan to take immediate steps to ensure payment of their long-pending pension and other outstanding dues.

The appeal came through a resolution passed unanimously at a joint meeting of the Retired Teachers and Employees Committee of the university and members of civil society, held at the Karachi Press Club on Tuesday.

The participants said that pensions of retired university employees had not been paid for the last five months, while other dues had remained unpaid for several years. During this period, 12 retired employees and more than five retired teachers had passed away, but their legal heirs were still unable to receive the payments due to them.

The speakers expressed concern that widows and families of deceased pensioners were facing severe financial hardship due to the non-payment of dues.

Participants further alleged that while retired employees were denied their lawful dues, the vice chancellor was drawing a hefty personal salary and benefits in violation of the recommendations of the university chancellor, President Asif Ali Zardari, and the Higher Education Commission.

Trump's rhetoric poses threat to global peace: MWM

KARACHI: The Majlis Wahdat-i-Muslimeen (MWM) has strongly condemned what it described as provocative and aggressive statements by US President Donald Trump, warning that such rhetoric poses a serious threat to global peace, justice, and human values.

In a statement on Wednesday, MWM Secretary General Allama Hasan Zafar Naqvi said that the protection of international peace and justice has become an urgent necessity in the current global environment.

"We appeal to the global community to condemn interference in the internal affairs of sovereign states as a clear violation of international law. Silence in the face of injustice would come at a heavy cost for humanity in the future," he added.

He accused the United States of holding global peace "hostage" through threats of military action and severe consequences against Iran, Latin American countries, Greenland, Denmark, Nigeria, and Hamas. — Staff Reporter

Protest over police failure to recover two children missing for one year

By Our Staff Reporter

KARACHI: Relatives and residents of the Garden area on Wednesday protested against the alleged failure of the police to recover two children who were reportedly kidnapped in January last year, officials said.

The protesters drew the attention of police authorities to the case.

On January 14, 2025, five-year-old Aliyan and six-year-old Ali Raza had gone missing while playing outside their homes in the Garden area. Initially, police had suggested that a couple riding a motorcycle had taken them away, but it was later proved false. Subsequently, police conducted raids, detained several individuals and searched the adjoining Lyari River and manholes but failed to trace the children.

On Wednesday, the relatives of the missing children and area residents blocked Murad Khan Chowk on Nishtar Road in Garden to protest police failure.

A traffic police spokesperson in a statement said that the protest led to a traffic mess in the area and that vehicles were diverted to alternative routes.

City SSP Arif Aziz told Dawn that he spoke with the protesters, who were persuaded to end their demonstration. He said the case had been transferred to the Anti-Violent Crime Cell (AVCC), a specialised police unit dealing with kidnapping cases. Mr Aziz added that he also spoke with AVCC officials and advised them to remain in contact with the families and share progress reports with them. On this assurance, the protesters ended their demonstration.

AVCC SSP Asif Raza Baloch told Dawn that he met both parents of the missing children on Tuesday. He added that police had searched all bus stops, railway stations, Punjab Child Protection Bureaus and Sindh orphanages, and that all CCTV footage across Karachi had been checked.

However, the missing children have not been traced yet.

Meanwhile, A decomposed body of a drowned man was recovered from the seaside on Wednesday, police and rescue officials said.

They said the body was found floating in the water near Manora Goth. The corpse was shifted to the Dr Ruth Pfau Civil Hospital Karachi for medico-legal formalities and identification.

contended that he was framed in the case.

The bench in its order noted that as per the previous IO, he had recommended disposal of the case under C Class (cancelation) and he had no knowledge whatsoever regarding the present accused.

"Consequently, his deposition pertains solely to the closure of proceedings against the deceased accused and does not, in any manner, implicate the present minor accused in the commission of the alleged offence", it added.

The bench also observed that admittedly, no incriminating substance or article was recovered from the possession of the minor accused at the time of alleged recovery and he was merely found present in the house of his father.

Consequently, it said that the FIR was lodged only against Hafiz Bashir and the name of the minor accused did not mention therein and the case was initially disposed of under C Class following the death of the main accused.

"However, it is surprising to note under what circumstances the present minor accused was subsequently implicated in the instant case by the third investigating officer without collecting or bringing on record any evidence whatsoever against him", it added.

The bench also said, "As per the initial allegations, the present accused was merely present in the house of his father, and admittedly no incriminating article was recovered from his possession, nor was any specific allegation levelled against him".

It further noted that the allegedly recovered case property/explosive material, was never produced before the court and was claimed to have been destroyed in a fire erupted at the malkhana (warehouse) at the City Courts.

"Furthermore, the prosecution has neither collected nor produced any independent or corroborative evidence to establish any nexus between the present minor accused and the alleged offence, nor has it produced any evidence to substantiate its claim against his father so as to link the minor accused indirectly. These glaring omissions further weaken the prosecution case", it concluded.
